

Building People

What is a church? PEOPLE!

Regardless of background, race or any other category that some use to divide us - all people are united through Christ. We simply want more people to know this truth.

To be fully known and fully loved; it's one of the deepest human needs. We all at some point have chased after love and acceptance, building our self worth around people, careers and the culture. But what quickly seems to satisfy our deepest desires, often leaves us still searching for more. More love. More acceptance. More fulfillment.

It is only through the gospel of Christ that we can know

God and experience the joy of truly being known, valued and loved. He knows everything about us and loves us anyway. He empowers us to live in a better way and to love others as we love ourselves. The love and acceptance everyone needs is embodied in the person of Jesus. He lived to demonstrate how God values His children. In Jesus, our deepest desire for acceptance and love is met.

“We seek to love people, serve people and develop people. People are our greatest resource; developing and connecting them to Christ is our ‘bottom line.’”

–Jeff L. Cooper

At Community Builders Church, we seek to love people, serve people and develop people. People are our greatest resource; developing and connecting them to Christ is our ‘bottom line’. We invest in people before programs and seek to help every person reach their full potential. We ‘build people’ by encouraging and stimulating their spiritual, emotional, physical and vocational wellbeing. We provide leadership development and education designed to equip believers to thrive in ministry and in a broken world. This is done in four ways:

Teaching- Provide scriptural truths in a practical, relevant and engaging manner to help people live and apply God’s Word to real life circumstances (i.e. how to ‘walk it out’).

Discipleship + Accountability- Growth groups incorporate study, application and fellowship to provide individuals the tools they need to learn, mature, lead, and then prepare others to do the same.

Service- Identify needs and passions of each individual; minister to the needs and unleash people to serve others in ways consistent with how God created them in order to become fully empowered partners in ministry.

Equipping- Classes and resources designed to prepare people to successfully navigate life, equip them to live to their potential and to gain a deeper understanding of God’s word.
