

Building Community

God never intended for us to live the Christian life alone. When we push past the culture's mantra of "it's all about me," we realize that each one of us needs other people to watch out for us, protect us, and help us stay on track. Community, in the biblical sense, challenges us to commit ourselves to life together as the people of God. We know all too well that growing up in Christ takes time. We are less willing to accept that it also takes our brothers and sisters in Christ, walking alongside us during the journey.

It is in this space that together, we can change and grow strong in following Jesus. For local communities and the world, the Christian community displays the good news and shows God's love to those who so desperately seek it.

“ Each one of us needs other people to watch out for us, protect us, and help us stay on track.”

–Jeff L. Cooper

The Christian community, makes the gospel a living reality. It represents a personal way of life together in Christ. It strengthens us to live the life to which we are called and it conveys God's life, power, compassion and healing power to a broken world. We seek to to build community by:

1. Creating a healthy, family environment with authentic relationships. Providing a safe place that offers love, support, growth, accountability, encouragement, fellowship and fun.
2. Bridging the gap and connecting people of all socioeconomic status and various beliefs, in order to establish a true sense of community within our cities.
3. Utilizing the resources that God has provided to edify, develop and pour into the local community.

The Community Builders Center will serve as an integral source for meeting the needs of the community. We envision providing:

- Coffee Shop, computer stations, Wi-Fi and casual meeting rooms.
- Fitness classes, cooking classes, and a variety of game and sports leagues
- After school youth leadership development
- Evening Equipping center, building spiritual, emotional and relational health.
- Alternate events center providing clean fun weekend entertainment (plays, poetry, dinner, game nights)

The church is called to be the primary resource for the community, freeing those in bondage, feeding the hungry, protecting those being abused, and sharing the good news of God's forgiveness of sin, but we no longer effectively serve in this role. As a result, our society is suffering. We believe it's time to reclaim the church's rightful place; serving as a beacon of light by meeting the physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of the community.

Your support empowers us to truly BE the church by taking action, investing in communities and creating eternal impact outside the walls of the church.
